LEADING HIGH-PERFORMING SALES TEAM

COURSE FEE : N175,500

DATE : MAR 7 – 9, AUG 8 – 10

Overview

A lot of focus is put on leadership development when the leader is just one person, the real driving force behind a leader's success is their team. A team operating effectively as a single unit will always outperform the best individual operating on their own. More importantly, no matter how knowledgeable and competent individual members of any team may be, a dysfunctional team will undermine organizational goals, drain morale, and waste effort.

Using the Clarity4D model, this 3-day virtual training will help managers and team leaders develop the requisite knowledge and skills needed to create and maintain a high-performing team, understand their team members' preferred communication styles to engage them better consequently leading to a cooperative atmosphere that can boost productivity, implementation of new initiatives and drive sales performance in today's customer-driven marketplace.

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants learn to

- Relate and communicate with their team members based on their individual personalities
- Develop team values and enhance commitment to team effort
- Contribute more positively to the development process of their sales teams
- Analyze the performance level of their teams for possible improvement
- Use leadership skills to control and lead their teams effectively
- Handle difficulties in the teams

Who Should Attend

Bank BMs, Business Development Managers, Relationship Managers, Sales Managers/Leads and those interested in building how they manage their sales team.

UNDERSTANDING THE OIL & GAS SECTOR BUSINESS – UPSTREAM & DOWNSTREAM

COURSE FEE :N350,500

DATE : DEC 6 – 8

Overview

Nigeria, a country heavily dependent on proceeds of crude oil sales, was forced into reactive strategies, such as palliative measures and several fiscal initiatives, to charge the economy into recovery. This was because of a continuous downturn in the expected proceeds from the sector characterized by scarcity of petroleum products. Lack of infrastructure, uncertainties in regulations, and security concerns have led Nigeria to underutilize its refining capacities despite positive forecasts about an increase in upstream and downstream activities. This has posed a lot of questions around the future of the Nigerian economy vis-à-vis the Oil and Gas sector.

This course will give participants an overview of the upstream and downstream sector of the oil & gas industry, its value chains and the intricacies of operating in the industry. It will provide an insight to the specific issues faced by sector as well potential play outs in the future.

SELLING THROUGH SERVICE

COURSE FEE : N175,500

DATE : AUG 30 - 31

Overview

In a highly competitive business environment, organisations must continually seek to build the sort of competencies that will afford it the requisite organisational capabilities that will enable it to differentiate itself from the competitors. The responsibility of sales has been solely charged to the Sales and Marketing department neglecting the roles of all other departments in ensuring sales excellence. There is the need for organizations to leverage the thousands of face-to-face customer interactions that their employees engage daily to convert customer satisfaction moments into selling moments.

This three-day training breaks down barriers by using language and context appropriate for employees who often feel they are not really salespeople. The skills help organizations save money, by solving problems better and faster, and make money, through cross-selling and up-selling. Best of all, customers appreciate the increased focus on needs.

Who Should Attend

Customer facing professionals and all employees of organisations seeking to increase bottom-line across board

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants learn to

- Recognize and overcome the barriers to effective customer conversations
- Open a customer conversation in a way that gains customer confidence and cooperation
- Learn what customers need by demonstrating effective probing techniques, including gently refocusing conversations in a more productive direction
- Reply with information that has a positive focus and helps customers make decisions, including linking features and benefits to advice and recommendations, and presenting unwelcome information
- Close a customer conversation in a way that maintains customer confidence
- Listen for clues to uncover additional customer needs and determine if the organization has products or services to meet those needs

MANAGING WORKPLACE DIVERSITY USING C4D

COURSE FEE : N250,500

DATE : NOV 20 – 22

Overview

The concept of workplace diversity encompasses acceptance and respect. It means respect for and appreciation of differences in ethnicity, gender, age, national origin, disability, sexual orientation, education, and religion. Inclusion is a state of being valued, respected, and supported. Workplace diversity & inclusion is about focusing on the preferences of every individual and ensuring the right conditions are in place for each person to achieve his or her full potential. In simple terms, diversity is the mix; inclusion is getting the mix to work well together.

Having a diverse workforce with people from different racial, educational, and social backgrounds and a diverse age range opens a wealth of possibilities and helps to encourage creativity and foster innovation. This three (3) day training provides a powerful comprehension of the emotional intelligence and interpersonal skills required to build a workplace culture that promotes improved employee morale, high retention rate, reduced harassment/discrimination, low absenteeism, and increased productivity.

The training modules are based on activities and disciplines that have been proven to consistently deliver results.

THE EMERGING LEADER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

COURSE FEE : N175,500

DATE : MAY 23 – 25, SEP 19 – 21

Overview

In our ever-changing world, executives and senior management are beginning to realize that it takes more than good management and technology to succeed. Leaders must be fully evolved, high-performing players able to build high-performing teams, and they must possess the savvy and interpersonal skills to shape and influence outcomes across organizational boundaries.

Specifically, mid-level leaders are key members of an organization. As change happens so frequently and workforces become more dispersed, mid-level leaders are the people who hold the organization's strategy together. As a result, they must be able to communicate and collaborate across functions, business units and levels of leadership as well as inside and outside the organization, hence, the development of mid-level leadership is highly important.

To help organisations, ensure long-term sustainability and increase competitive advantage in today's talent-driven economy, this programme is useful to prepare potential successors to take up leadership roles. The programme is created out of the need to support managers and potential managers in developing and retaining every organisation's most valuable asset, the 'people'.

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants

- Draw on insights from psychology to create a self-development action plan
- Understand of the role of line managers as people managers and developers as well as the ability to establish the link between HR activities of line managers and the company's capacity to execute its strategies
- Understand of models for fostering trust in work groups leading to a great workplace
- Use effective communication skills of active listening and questioning
- Create a motivational environment using feedback and reinforcement to guide and motivate behaviour
- Understand of the principles of emotional intelligence and its impact on personal effectiveness and work relationships

Who Should Attend

Managers, executives, sales representatives or any professionals who need to be able to inform, convince or persuade clients or work colleagues.

STRATEGIC AWARENESS AND BUSINESS ACUMEN

COURSE FEE : N175,500

DATE : JUN 14 – 15

Overview

The term “business acumen” is simply the art of linking an insightful assessment of the external business world with an understanding of how money can be made. Then stakeholders develop key strategies to deliver desired results. This intelligence provides great scope to make good business judgements and quick decisions that are ultimately profitable for your organisation.

No single aspect of managerial skill is more important. If the assessments and assumptions taken are inaccurate, your organisation’s strategic positioning is likely to be misplaced. The result is developing wrong capabilities, hiring unskilled people, entering the wrong markets, and focusing energy on non-profitable activities.

This programme helps participants to understand business acumen, the proven linkages that exist and the importance of developing strategic skill sets.

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants learn

- How to understand business growth
- How to manage and control cash flow
- How to interpret financial statements
- How to focus on value-add activities
- How to interpret pricing and costing to make effective financial decisions
- How to segment and target profitable market segments
- How to understand the linkages between strategic decision-making processes and the external business world
- How to understand the importance of making sound business decisions and focusing upon key performance indicators.

Who Should Attend

PEOPLE ANALYTICS FOR HR PROFESSIONALS

COURSE FEE : N250,500

DATE : APR 25 – 27, SEP 5 – 7

Overview

Employee salaries and HR programmes often account for close to half of many organisations' operating expenses. One reason for this high level of investment is the recognition that people are the ultimate source of innovation and competitive advantage. To leverage maximum employee value and potential, many leading organisations are turning to HR analytics to gain a deeper understanding of their workforce and improve the quality and credibility of HR decision-making. Modern human resources specialists now use data and algorithms to drive business solutions.

At a time when the old ways of running HR are no longer enough to keep pace with competition and technology, HR professionals now need to develop robust analytical skills. However, figuring out where to start with analytics, how to evaluate and critique HR data, and how to best communicate and translate results to the broader organisation are key challenges.

This three (3) day programme will provide participants with essential knowledge and tools for HR metrics and analytics to improve the quality and credibility of their HR decision-making.

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants

- Derive meaning from metrics and results
- Apply HR analytics to support evidence-based decision-making and evaluation of HR investments
- Differentiate between measures of HR efficiency, effectiveness, and impact on business
- Tell persuasive stories involving HR and organisational data
- Communicate results and recommend strategies that inform business decisions

THE STRATEGY AND HIGH-IMPACT LEADERSHIP PROGRAMME

COURSE FEE : N205,500

DATE : NOV 14 - 16

Overview

Strategic thinking is a core competency needed now more than ever. Strategies are continuously being recalibrated to ensure a smooth sail irrespective of an uncertain business environment. As executive leaders, strategic thinking helps to judge value-creating potential and risk, think more clearly about future challenges, develop viable solutions, and innovate to turn threats into opportunities. It is a vital competency to help executive leaders effectively formulate and plan organisational strategies; and bring those strategies to action.

In this training course, participants will gain the knowledge and skills needed to analyze problems, spur creativity, and implement innovative ideas in a practical way in the workplace. Participants will develop a better understanding of the organisational environment and how to align strategy and its implementation with the organization's goals. They will also look at some strategic thinking processes and then practice these processes using a case study. Our Clarity4D approach will help participants understand how to integrate various 'Jungian Preferences' into the process of creating solutions - formulating and executing strategies that cut across these preferences.

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants

- Make better decisions through strategic thinking and creative problem solving
- Cultivate strategic intelligence gathering and analysis skills, formulate strategy, and plan for strategy implementation.
- Gain deeper knowledge into organizational strategy and business unit strategy development.
- Undertake a strategic diagnosis of their part of the business - Uncover unique capabilities, as well as weaknesses; See how threats can be opportunities and vice versa
- Transform their creativity into practical business solutions
- Develop actionable plans tied to business goals and oversee the implementation and ongoing assessment

Who Should Attend

LEADING FOR ORGANISATIONAL IMPACT

COURSE FEE : N175,500

DATE : OCT 4 - 6

Overview

Numerous studies show that in a business-as-usual environment, leaders that are self-aware and socially aware perform better and foster more loyalty and engagement in their teams. An organisation focused on control will not unleash the creativity and innovation necessary to navigate a crisis and emerge healthy on the other side. Leadership is more important now than ever and can be the differentiator in every organisation - to turn crisis into opportunity. Strong social awareness and emotional intelligence is critical for leaders to make balanced decisions, cultivate a "can-do" culture, and build for the future.

This three (3) day workshop aims to equip participants with exceptional leadership skills and provides a practical and highly relevant approach to effective leadership in the 21st century. The programme is designed to be 100% experiential and lessons learned are simple and easy to apply in personal and professional life. It is a powerful and enlightening personal learning experience and because it is simple and about color energies, people recognize and remember, they are also able to apply the principles in the cause of their interaction with people.

The Clarity4D model goes beyond profile assessment by providing an avenue for feedback which is valuable to lead to important, actionable insights into behavior, personality quirks, biases, strengths, and unattended-to areas.

Learning Outcomes

The training will help participants learn

- Understand how to lead from the inside out
- Use colours to understand the different Jungian behaviour
- Better understand how to guide employees towards achieving shared goals
- Improve manager-employee relations for best results
- Understand the 4 dimensions of leadership development
- Explore their 'instinctive' selves
- Be more forward-thinking leaders by changing how they work together, engage their people through crisis, and collaborate to make critical decisions and adapt in VUCA environment.

Who Should Attend
